Man charged after gunshots fired in city centre stand off

By George Welch

A MAN has been charged with a series of offences after a 14-hour stand-off between a gunman and armed police ended peacefully in Oxford.

Duncan Shearman, 24, of Paradise Square, has been charged with the possession of a firearm with intent to cause fear of violence and three counts of possession of a weapon for the discharge of a noxious liquid or gas.

He appeared at Banbury Magistrates' Court yesterday and was remanded in custody to appear at Oxford Crown Court on June 8.

Thames Valley Police confirmed shots were exchanged between a suspect and officers in Paradise Square – just yards from Oxford Castle – on bank holiday Monday.

Nearby streets were locked down by officers who were called to the scene at around 1.15pm.

Negotiations continued into the early hours of Tuesday before a man was arrested on suspicion of attempted murder at about 3am. No charge has been brought in connection with this.

Shoppers and tourists heard 'multiple' shots from a balcony.

No one was seriously injured, a TVP

EAT me and drink me would have been appropriate phrases at Oxford's Westgate rooftop terrace at the weekend as it took on an Alice in Wonderland theme.

Young visitors enjoyed an interactive storytelling adventure as they went down the rabbit hole at a summer party.

Musical bingo with DJs was played in the sun as the terrace's restaurants were packed with hungry and thirsty diners.

Brendan Hattam, general manager at Westgate Oxford said: "We're delighted to officially open the roof terrace for our first summer. It's a great place to be in the warmer weather, and we've had a jam-packed weekend with amazing activities from magical storytelling, wondrous taste sensations and madcap musical bingo."

Children bitten by dog near a travellers' camp

By George Welch

POLICE patrols have been increased in Witney after dogs near a travellers' site bit three people.

A 13-year-old boy and eight-year-old girl are among those bitten after a camp was set up at the site last Monday

There have so far been reports of five incidents which occurred on Tuesday and Wednesday last week in Newlands Field.

Thames Valley Police confirmed that "three people sustained minor injuries as a result of a dog bite"

Neighbourhood Policing Inspector Steve Hookham, based at Witney Police Station, moved to reassure residents

He said. "I would like to reassure the public that we are thoroughly investigating these incidents

"I am aware that incidents of this nature are worrying to local residents and my officers will be conducting regular patrols in the area."

It is understood that a gate had been removed from the field at the end of last week. A chain and padlock was put in the gate's place.

However the chain and unbroken padlock had been scattered across the ground at the field's entrance.

Landowner Witney Town Council served the travellers with a notice for vacation and, as we went to press the travellers had moved to Deer Park.

The RSPCA hit out at authorities for doing 'very little'

In a now-deleted Facebook post, RSPCA Oxfordshire said. "Was always going to happen. ..thus should not be a problem for charities or voluntary organisations to deal with.

"What are the police and local authorities doing about it, very little again no doubt ... " [sic]

Wood Green School, next to Newlands Field, sent out an email warning parents of animals acting unpredictably

It read. 'A travelling community has arrived on King George's field [same field] in Newland. As this is a regular route home for many of our students I wanted to make you aware, as there may be animals in the field which may react unpredictably to distractions

"It might be wise to discuss with your child, a route home which avoids the field for the time being."

Oxford voted third worst station by passengers

MANY frustrated commuters frequently waiting for trains at Oxford station will be saying 'I told you so'

Oxford Rail Station has been named the third worst train station in England, according to data released by watchdog Transport Focus.

Data shows that just 47 per cent of passengers were satisfied with the Park End Street station's services

This was the third lowest figure recorded across the UK, the worst being Glasgow Queen Street at 58 per cent followed by Gatwick Airport at 66 per cent.

Of the findings, Transport Focus chief executive Anthony Smith said. "Investment in stations can improve passengers satisfaction when targeted at features which make a difference to their experience

"Passengers' top priorities for stations include arrival time information waiting rooms and the overall look and feel of the station."

Transport Focus spoke to 28,940 passengers at Britain's rail stations between September and November 2017 as part of the National Rail Passenger Survey

Results are based on the 56 stations where at least 100 people responded.

The top five stations were: London King's Cross, 90 per cent, London St Pancras 95 per cent, Birmingham New Street 92 per cent Reading 92 per cent and London Marylebone, 91 per cent

SEARCH and rescue operations in Oxfordshire have been given a boost with the donation of a new incident control vehicle

The van has been fully operational for two months and has already assisted in Oxfordshire Lowland Search and Rescue team's rapid response to eight incidents across the region.

The vehicle, part financed by Scottish and Southern Electricity Networks' Resilient Communities Fund, is kitted out with cutting edge technology and has extra space for medical and rescue equipment.

"The benefits this new vehicle brings to OxSAR and – in turn – to the communities it serves can't be underestimated."

The OxSAR team can mobilise a volunteer team within an hour when called out by Thames Valley Police.

Rise in city footfall continues

By George Welch

FOOTFALL in Oxford city centre continues to rise proving it to be a 'thriving retail and leisure destination'

Latest figures from Oxford City Council show an increase of 16 per cent in the first quarter of 2018 compared to the same period last year

More than 8 5 million visitors came to the city in the three months to the end of March, up more than 1 2million on the same period in 2017

February 24 was the most popular day for shoppers and tourists with 142 817 on that day alone while the previous week February 11 to 17 was the busiest with 791 691 people setting foot in the centre

The footfall increase mirrors the pattern that began with the opening of the £440million Westgate in October last year which attracted more than nine million shoppers in the first six months and is set to reach an expected 15 million in its first year

Councillor Susan Brown, leader of Oxford City Council, said. "The rise in footfall shows the city centre continues to be a thriving retail and leisure destination.

"The new Westgate has made a real difference to people s experience of our city centre and their desire to visit it

"We work with retailers and landlords to ensure that this continues to be a shared success for retailers across the city centre."

The city council revealed that following the relocation of some retailers to the Westgate from the surrounding streets thet there are 36 empty units—five with confirmed new tenants, three under offer and eight are being redeveloped

Further regeneration of the city centre comes in the form of £1 6million being invested in the historic Covered Market over the next four years and the proposed £9 75million revamp of 1-5 George Street into restaurant and Grade A office space which is due to be submitted by June

Laurie Jane Taylor city centre manager said. "We are working closely with landlords in the city centre as they work to fill empty units or redevelop their properties to improve their condition and adjust them to new uses

"The council is also carrying out regeneration and improvement work on its properties, which will contribute to the enhanced look, feel and vibrancy of the city centre."

Campaigners show support for people 'treated like criminals'

By George Welch

CAMPAIGNERS took to the centre of Oxford last week to rally in support of the Windrush generation.

More than 100 people gathered at Carfax Tower in protest of how those who travelled here from the Caribbean between the late 1940s and early 1970s, have been treated.

The protest coincided with a parliamentary debate for a full amnesty for the Windrush generation and other Commonwealth citizens.

Ian McKendrick, from Oxford Stand Up To Racism, spoke at the event.

He said: "The deliberate creation of a hostile environment for migrants, with arbitrary targets to reduce immigration has seen people who have every right to live in the UK sacked denied healthcare, thrown into prison and deported.

"People who have lived all their lives here, who helped to rebuild Britain after World War Two and saved the NHS have been treated like criminals."

Sajid Javid is the new Home Secretary having replaced Amber Rudd, who resigned the day before the protest following intense pressure.

Immigration minister Caroline Nokes said she is personally sorry "to

Standing together: People gathered in Carfax to protest about the treatment of the Windrush generation

Caribbean nationals who have been wrongly threatened with deportation and pledges to 'put things right as swiftly and effectively as possible.

Mr McKendrick said: "It is good that the government is now retreating under pressure but it has taken two years of pressure to bring the scandal out into the open. Even now we are not being told the truth. Amber Rudd has mislead Parliament by denying knowledge of targets set to force people out of the country."

Oxford City Council leader Susan Brown previously said Prime Minister Theresa May is directly responsible for the scandal.

Urging those unsettled by recent news to seek advice from city groups including Asylum Welcome and Open Door Oxford, she said. "In Oxford we are proud of the huge contribution that they and other Commonwealth citizens have made to our city.

"The city council was proud to support the combined celebrations of Commonwealth Day and the single act of remembrance in March, recognising the role that Commonwealth citizens played in supporting our country in its hour of greatest need."

Road work begins

MOTORISTS are getting ready for another round of delays as a deferred £18million road project finally gets under way next week.

The third and final stage of Access to Headington was meant to start in January but work will begin on Headley Way and Cherwell Drive on Monday after £3.5million extra funding was agreed in March.

The work is expected to be completed in March 2019.

Conmen steal cash

MEN posing as staff from a water company stole cash and jewellery from an elderly woman.

The 84 year old's flat in First Turn, Wolvercote was targeted between 10am and 11am last Monday.

A man wearing a blue boiler suit asked if he could turn the woman's stopcock off while another man entered the flat and searched the victim's bedroom for 15 minutes.

Both men were white, one is described as 'very big'.

Call police on 101 quoting 43180129330 with information.

Car tyres slashed

A Headington street was targeted by vandals who slashed tyres on four cars parked in Carter Close.

The incident happened between 9pm on April 29 and 7am on April 30.

Call police on 101 quoting reference number 43180129949.

George Street revamp for office complex

OFFICIAL plans for a major £9.75million redevelopment of a busy Oxford street should be submitted by the end of next month.

Spearheaded by Oxford City Council, the intention is to knock down 1-5 George Street, which the authority owns, to build a new complex to increase returns in rent and floorspace.

Most of the tenants in the buildings have been moved out and security hoardings have been put up outside them.

Planning chiefs considered refurbishing the buildings but decided it would be better financially to build a denser development from scratch rather than refurbish it.

The council, which is finalising its review of designs before submitting the application, said the site is earmarked for new restaurants and offices.

Ian Gray the council's interim regeneration and economy programme director, said the potential redevelopment would help boost the quality of office accommodation in the city centre.

He said, "This scheme format has considerable benefits in providing central office accommodation for businesses wanting to remain in a central location and potentially for attracting new businesses to the area. This regeneration project also represents good value for money as the completed development should greatly improve the council's revenues.

"Above all, the provision of Grade A office accommodation in the heart of the city is a major consideration."

Morris Garage is an 'irreplaceable' building

A FORMER Morris Garage in Oxford has been chosen as one of the most irreplaceable places in England.

Director of the V&A museum Tristram Hunt revealed his top 10 industry trade and commerce places in Historic England's Irreplaceable: A History of England in 100 Places campaign on Friday.

The former garage at 21 Longwall Street, Oxford, was the home of British manufacturer MG Motors throughout the 20th century.

William Morris started his business selling and repairing cars in 1908 before producing a prototype Oxford Bullnose.

By the 1920s, Morris was making a third of all cars in the UK.

Category judge Mr Hunt said,

"For me this rather humble and modest site symbolises the essential force in 20th century industrial life—the motor car."

Duncan Wilson, chief executive of Historic England, said "We had an overwhelming response from the public in this category with nearly 800 nominations of places which help tell the story of our industrial and commercial past.

"Each of these 10 places chosen by Tristram Hunt demonstrate that many different industries and enterprises from brewing and coal mining to financial services have defined who we are as a nation and although some have changed uses they remain a central part of our lives today."

Memorial: Flt Lt Charles 'Rusty' Ruston, fourth from right on canopy, will be remembered on the Wall of Honour

Honouring bravery of Flt Lt Rusty

"It is right that we pay homage to those like Rusty who gave their lives in preparation for a conflict not yet realised"

RBLI chief executive Brigadier Steve Sherry

By George Welch

A FIGHTER jet navigator who achieved his boyhood dreams of a life in the skies before dying during a training exercise will be honoured for the first time through a unique commemorative campaign.

Flight Lieutenant Charles 'Rusty' Ruston became a Flying Officer in 1974 before being killed aged 29 in an advanced combat exercise near Las Vegas six years later.

Flt Lt Ruston died after failing to eject before the aircraft hit the ground. A violent manoeuvre caused the right outer wing to separate from the airframe leaving the plane uncontrollable.

No physical memorial has been established for Rusty – until now.

Rusty who was survived by his then-pregnant wife and daughter will have his name placed on a special commemorative wall to be unveiled on Armistice Day in November.

The remembrance project offers members of the public the opportunity

Assault course challenge for play park

WITNEY parents clambered, crawled and climbed their way through a tricky assault course to raise funds for an inclusive play area.

A team of 15 Madley Park parents joined together as Team AMP to tackle a gruelling obstacle course raising more than £1 000 towards Activate MadleyPark's target for the play park.

The session run by Gareth from FITBeing at Eynsham Hall, put participants through their paces with a log carrying and tyre-bashing cardio set.

The mud-covered rain soaked parents took on a variety of challenges such as clinging to rope crossings, scrambling through tyres and wading through streams.

Motivated by their £1,000 sponsorship target, the fearless group climbed up through and over various obstacles before conquering a pond crossing while shivering in the 9 degree temperature.

The team's original plans to take on the Monster Race at Cornbury Park were dashed when the company went into liquidation earlier this year.

Activate MadleyPark is aiming to raise a total of £132,800 towards the new play area.

The plans for the play area include a wheelchair accessible trampoline roundabout sensory panels and accessible picnic table, in addition to a new climbing frame with slide and skate park.

to have their name or the name of a loved one engraved onto a plaque for £100 – all of which will go to helping veterans through charity Royal British Legion Industries services.

Rusty's sister Lindy Henry who has lived in Carterton for 33 years said it is a "privilege" to honour his bravery.

The 64-year-old said: "He was always willing to give his life if necessary – we are all enormously proud of him.

"To be able to leave a legacy behind in honour of Charlie's life is something we are all just simply proud to be able to do."

The Wall of Honour will be unveiled in the RBLI's memorial garden in Aylesford, Kent on November 11 – precisely 100 years on from the end of the First World War.

Lindy said: "Just thinking about how I might feel brings me to tears. I know he will be just one name in a wall of many others but it will be enough to know that it will long outlast us.

"And who knows, maybe some future generation – yet unborn – will visit and remember him.

"We keep him alive as much as we can now and hopefully that will continue."

RBLI's chief executive Brigadier Steve Sherry said: "It is right that we pay homage to those like Rusty who gave their lives in preparation for a conflict not yet realised.

"We are immensely proud to be able to offer the Wall of Honour as a place of permanent remembrance to the family of Flight Lieutenant Charles 'Rusty' Ruston."

Fined for dog mess

A DOG owner has been fined £400 for failing to remove mess her dog had left on public land.

Toni Brayfield of Westfield, Harwell, was fined £170 and ordered to pay £230 costs for breaching the Dogs (Fouling of Land) Act 1996.

Ms Brayfield was prosecuted after a resident contacted Vale of White Horse District Council in September 2017 after seeing Ms Brayfield repeatedly letting her dog foul the public land.

An environmental officer visited the area and then wrote to Ms Brayfield about the issue. She failed to pay the fixed penalty notice and was then prosecuted.

Cllr Elaine Ware, cabinet member for housing and environment at Vale of White Horse District Council, said: "Anyone in charge of a dog is responsible for making sure mess is cleared up and disposed of correctly.

"Failing to do this shows a complete lack of regard for the environment, everyone in the local community and also badly lets down all responsible dog owners."

Cow theft at farm

A COW has been stolen from a farm leaving its calf behind.

Police are on the hunt for the Hereford Cow which was stolen from Folly Farm, Common Road in Beckley north of Headington.

It is believed the cow described as red with a white face, has been stolen because it has gone missing while its calf is still in the field.

It disappeared between 8am on April 29 and 8am the following day.

Call police on 101 quoting 43180131509 if you have any information.

Man attacked car

A MAN got out of his vehicle on the A420 and hit and dented a passing car as it overtook him.

He damaged the roof of the overtaking car close to the junction for Littleworth near Faringdon.

The incident happened at about 9.30am on April 28.

The man was driving a green Fiat 500 car and was described as white, in his mid forties with brown hair and a medium build.

Call police on 101 quoting reference 43180127417 with information.

Nativity auditions

IT is time for young performers to sparkle and shine for next month's auditions for hit musical Nativity!

The show, based on the popular Christmas film, arrives at the New Theatre Oxford in December and producers are looking for talented youngsters to star.

Writer Debbie Isitt said she wants characterful but disciplined children who can act 'snobby and superior'.

Oxford auditions take place on Saturday June 9. Visit tinyurl.com/yb86ffkm for more information.

Health check scores with fans

Oxford United hold awareness-raising exercise

By Owen Hughes

FOOTBALL fans in Oxford have been sent for an early shower after supporters undertook a matchday MOT last month.

One in 10 Oxford United fans who received a free NHS mini health check at the home game against Oldham were given a red card and advised to book a GP appointment.

A further 10 per cent of the 240 supporters who took advantage of the check up were given the green-light, meaning no follow up action was recommended.

The remaining 80 per cent were given an amber rating after the awareness-raising exercise by Oxfordshire County Council's Public Health team.

Ratings were based on blood pressure readings and Body Mass Index (BMI) figures.

Oxford United managing director Niall McWilliams undertook the test himself prior to the game.

He said: "Taking steps to educate ourselves about keeping fit and healthy is imperative.

"Men, especially, can be reticent about their physical health but to achieve a good quality of life it is crucial to take up the NHS Health Check offered by your GP practice."

Cabinet member for public health and education, Hilary Hibbert-Biles, said: "We're delighted with the level of engagement and participation from the Oxford fans, some of whom may now have some extra motivation to focus a bit more on their long-term health.

"We were really pleased that 75 per cent of fans who got themselves checked were men."

Full NHS checks are available for anyone aged between 40 and 74 without pre-existing conditions provided by GP surgeries.

Pet company boss fined for ill treatment

A PET care service in south Oxfordshire has been fined following the death of a dog in its care.

Simon Herbert, 50, of Cane End, pleaded guilty to running an unlicensed animal boarding establishment at Oxford Magistrates Court on Tuesday last week.

Herbert, of Simon's Pet Services based near Woodcote, was fined £300 and ordered to pay £700 in costs.

South Oxfordshire District Council investigated the company which offers dog walking, dog day care and a cat feeding home service in 2016 following four complaints from dog owners which included the death of a dog, the escape of two dogs from the premises and the physical and emotional care of a puppy.

The investigation discovered several breaches of the licence conditions – and his application to renew it in January 2017 was refused.

However Herbert refused to appeal the decision and continued to care for between four and six dogs since.

Cllr Caroline Newton, SODC's cabinet member for environment, said: "Anybody looking after animals has a legal and moral duty to provide a decent level of care.

"We will prosecute anybody who doesn't maintain the levels of care expected by the council and by the pets' owners."

Take Pride in whoever you are at city's inclusive festival

OXFORD will be dazzled by drag and besotted with burlesque when Pride festivities return later this month.

Celebrating Oxford Pride from May 25 to June 3, producer and host Ginger Tart will bring cabaret OxPHWOARd to town, jam-packed with subversive drag and burlesque.

Ginger said: "Representation is a real issue in the LGBT community.

"All too often the only type of LGBT people we see in the media are cis white able bodied gay men.

"I wanted to change the narrative and create a more inclusive atmosphere that speaks to a wider range of people.

"Our cast features women, trans and gender non-conforming people, people of colour and people with disabilities. It's important to show that LGBT minorities do exist and they're amazing and clever and creative.

"Pride is for everyone, so why not prove it with our performers?"

Lily Belle and Benjamin Butch with perform at the event, while Pi the Mime and Rubyyy Jones will host character and performance workshops.

OxPHWOARd has been running for two years celebrating diversity by bringing together people of different genders, sexualities, ethnicities and disabilities in the LBTQIA+ community.

OxPHWOARd will take place on May 31 at the Old Fire Station as part of the Oxford Pride Festival.

Singing along with Gruffalo

AWARD-WINNING children's author Julia Donaldson joined hundreds of school pupils in a musical extravaganza

The creator of The Gruffalo gave three performances of songs inspired by her famous stories alongside her husband Malcolm and 900 youngsters from 28 schools across Oxfordshire

Packed audiences of family and friends joined in with much-loved characters from tales such as Room on the Broom, Monkey Puzzle, and of course, the Gruffalo himself.

Julia and Malcolm were invited to perform with Oxfordshire school children, who learnt the songs in music lessons

Julia said, "A lot of people don t know that before I wrote any books I was a songwriter I was thrilled when I heard that lots of children from Oxfordshire schools would be performing these songs and they invited me and my husband Malcolm to join in the performance."

She added. "It was a really, really great day Something just a bit different and I've had a lovely time."

Jess Gray from the Music Service, said it was "a day to remember for everyone involved"

The event took place at the county's Centre for Music in Headington.

PC quit after nightclub fracas

By George Welch

THE behaviour of a police constable who was thrown out of a nightclub and fought with bouncers amounted to gross misconduct, a hearing found.

Thames Valley Police said former officer Ryan Field, who was based at the Oxford investigation hub was off-duty in Banbury when he fought with door staff.

While under the influence of alcohol he kicked one member of staff "with considerable force on his shin," the panel heard.

Field resigned on April 17 before his hearing at TVP's headquarters in Kidlington on Thursday last week.

The special case misconduct hearing, chaired by Chief Constable Francis Habgood determined that the former officer had breached the standards of professional behaviour in respect of discreditable conduct

In a statement police said Field "intervened in a disturbance by shouting and grappling with security staff" at the nightclub in the early hours of February 19

Staff ejected him from the premises, but he continued to "behave in an aggressive manner" and kicked one of the men at the door

The Chief Constable said Field would have been dismissed from the force had he still been a serving officer and TVP will submit his details to be placed on the College of Policing's Barred List

Deputy Chief Constable John Campbell said Field "behaved in such a manner likely to bring discredit upon the police service which would have undermined the public's confidence in us".

"There can never be a place for this behaviour in our force," he added.

In a separate case another former officer who looked up the criminal history of his ex-partners new boyfriends was found to have committed gross misconduct.

At another special hearing last Thursday, the male officer only referred to as Officer A, accessed the Police National Computer and Thames Valley Police's Niche database.

He was said to have taken information from them for a "non-policing" purpose

No longer a serving officer, he would have been sacked if he was still in the force the panel said.

His details will now be placed on the College of Policing's Barred List.

He accessed details improperly between January 3 2015 and October 14 2015.

Businesses given Queen's Award

By George Welch

TWO Oxfordshire businesses will rub shoulders with royalty after being awarded prestigious Queen's Awards for enterprise

Grove-based Williams Advanced Engineering, the business arm of the Formula 1 team, is in pole position after being recognised for its Formula E battery technology

Abingdon's business development firm Intralink scooped its award for its outstanding achievements in overseas trade innovation, sustainable development and social mobility

The Queen's Awards for Enterprise are the UK's most prestigious business awards, recognising and celebrating business excellence across the country

Williams has powered all the cars on the Formula E grid since it began in 2014. Now in its fourth season, the championship has benefited from technology developed by the firm, which boasts of a "99.9 per cent reliability record in races from the company's batteries"

The current generation of Formula E cars can travel at 140mph and Williams says batteries remain practical in terms of aerodynamics, range, recharging times and safety in research and commercial applications

Managing director Craig Wilson believes the company is "delivering a world-first that will light the way for future sustainable transport"

He added: "I pay tribute to our team that has powered Formula E from the beginning at such a high level of innovation, performance, service and reliability"

Intralink is an international business development consultancy specialising in East Asia.

Royal appointment: Intralink CEO Greg Sutch is proud of the award

It helps Western businesses expand in China, Japan, South Korea and Taiwan and Asian companies to expand in the West.

In recent years the global business, based in Blacklands Way, has supported two local charities, Homeless Oxfordshire and The Abingdon Bridge which supports the wellbeing of young people

Greg Sutch, Intralink's CEO said his team are "thrilled to have won such a significant accolade"

He added, "It's a wonderful recognition of our distinctive approach and the talent and hard work of our employees

"We're all immensely proud of this award – and looking forward to telling the Queen more about Intralink later this summer."

Representatives from both Intralink and Williams have been invited to meet the Queen at Buckingham Palace to collect the award this summer

The Queen said, "The awards are widely recognised as a highly valued mark of excellence, across many sectors, in a diverse and competitive business market."

Expressway effect on wildlife could be 'devastating'

THE proposed Oxford to Cambridge corridor has the potential to have "devastating effects" on wildlife, a charity has warned.

The Berks, Bucks & Oxon Wildlife Trust has warned all three proposed routes could be damaging

It has asked Highways England to do a Strategic Environment Assessment (SEA) and hold a full public consultation on the route options

Neil Clennell, director of conservation and education in Oxfordshire, said, "If the SEA is not undertaken before a preferred corridor is selected, the opportunity to fully scrutinise the comparative impacts of all possible expressway routes will be lost."

The trust's most serious concerns are for designated sites and nature reserves in the areas of Cothill Fen near Abingdon, Oxford Meadows, the Otmoor Basin near Bicester and the Upper Ray Valley and Bernwood Forest in Buckinghamshire.

Oxford West and Abingdon MP Layla Moran, Henley MP John Howell, Oxfordshire MEP Keith Taylor, former Oxford City Council leader Bob Price and the Expressway Action Group have all called for a public consultation

Campaign to Protect Rural England called for a public enquiry in February

The proposed expressway is currently in the research phase and Highways England is expected to announce its preferred route in July

Enjoy a pint and protect the bees

WITNEY BASED brewers are all hands to the pump to save Britain's dwindling bee population.

Brakspear will serve its Honey Bee beer throughout May to raise money for Friends of the Earth s Bee Cause campaign

For every pint sold the brewery will donate 10 pence to the campaign to protect declining bee numbers in Britain.

Last year, Brakspear presented a cheque for £2,890 to the charity

The company is also encouraging customers to take part in the Great British Bee Count from May 17 to June 30.

Brakspear chief executive Tom Davies said: "We re delighted to be supporting the Bee Cause again, it s a cause that our licensees and customers are keen to support, as reflected in the growing demand for Honey Bee

"Supporting Friends of the Earth's Bee Cause is a natural choice for Brakspear

"We have a bee in our logo and some of the finest pub gardens in the region, which rely on bees to pollinate the plants and shrubs that make them so attractive."

Friends of the Earth chief executive Craig Bennett said the charity is "extremely grateful" to the brewers.

"People can enjoy a pint of Honey Bee and know they are helping these precious pollinators," he added.

Study shows the importance of out-of-hours GPs

OUT OF HOURS GPs see almost a third of people who die in Oxfordshire, according to a new study.

The research, published in the journal BMJ Open, found that a "significant number of people who died in the county had OOH care in the 30 days prior to their death.

A collaboration between Oxford University, Oxford Health NHS Foundation Trust and Birmingham University, this is the first study in the UK to look at the extent of the role OOH GPs play in end of life care.

To do this researchers examined anonymised patient medical records during a 12-month period in 2014/15.

Study lead Dr Gail Hayward, an Oxford-based GP and academic at Oxford University, said: "Many patients with a terminal illness wish to die at home rather than in hospital.

"It is important our patients receive the best possible access to care at the end of their life, regardless of the time of day or night they make the call for support.

"This study demonstrates the important role Oxfordshire's OOH GP services play in end-of-life care."

Across Oxfordshire, the OOH service provides urgent medical care from 6.30pm to 8am during the week, with 24-hour cover provided at weekends and bank holidays.

In 2017/18, 110 000 patients made 145 000 contacts with the service.

Giving back: Rory Barclay-Watt leads the runners, including brother Angus in blue, at Chandlings School

Pupils running to say thanks to Tom's Ward

AN Oxford school pupil and his friends ran the extra mile last month raising £650 for a children's ward at the John Radcliffe Hospital.

Rory Barclay-Watt completed a sponsored four mile run to buy an X-box and other games and books for children on Tom's Ward.

The Year 4 pupil at Chandlings School completed the circuit in under 35 minutes alongside brother Angus, 12, and other friends.

Nine-year-old Rory suffered two strints on Tom's Ward in October 2017 after complications from a burst appendix.

After coming home following surgery Rory had to go back into the ward for further treatment.

Rory said: "The doctors and nurses were so brilliant on Tom's Ward when I was there that I wanted to do something to say thank you."

John Bradley, director of sport at the Kennington independent school, came up with the idea for the sponsored run.

Head of Chandlings, Christine Cook said the school is "so proud of Rory" for his resilience, determination "and most of all kindness".

"The organisation of the run with Rory's family epitomises our values at Chandlings and shows how we come together as a community in order to raise money for this fantastic cause."

Students show their Zest for enterprise

By George Welch

IT was the battle of the businesses as students from across Oxfordshire competed to be named the county's company of the year.

Young Enterprise, a popular annual competition that aims to inspire the next generation, ended last week with a special prize-giving ceremony in Oxford.

The Lord Mayor of Oxford, Jean Fooks, handed out six prizes at The King's Centre to celebrate businesses and social enterprise set up and run by the youngsters over an academic year.

The overall winning team was Zest from Oxford High School.

The team had written, illustrated and produced a socially-conscious story book aiming to reverse taught prejudice against social minorities.

Runner up team Thunk, from The Oxford Academy set up a social enterprise aiming to tackle drug use and associated crimes in the Blackbird Leys area.

Both teams will represent Oxfordshire at the South Central Regional Company of the Year competition on June 21 at the University of Buckingham.

Cassandra Cardiff, Oxfordshire area manager for Young Enterprise, said: "The judges were extremely impressed by all the teams and the products they developed. Many of the young people taking part in the competition started this academic year with very little knowledge of how business works.

"They have grown into budding entrepreneurs with business prowess and a drive to make their ideas come alive."

Liz Marchant, editorial director for sponsor Taylor & Francis said: "It was clear each group had thoroughly enjoyed the experience and very much deserved their place in the Oxfordshire finals.

"Congratulations and best of luck to Zest and Thunk as they represent Oxfordshire at the regional finals."

Charity of the year 2018 – Helen & Douglas House

Golfer caps fundraising with show of support for hospice

By George Welch

ABINGDON golfing ace Eddie Pepperell will don the distinctive heart logo of Helen & Douglas House when he runs for glory on the European Tour later this month.

The 27-year-old has promised to wear a cap bearing the East Oxford hospice's logo during the PGA Championship at Wentworth and the Italian Open.

Pepperell, ranked 100th in the world, won the Qatar Masters in February with his first victory on the tour

And millions will watch the Sutton Courtney man in Wentworth and Brescia later this month as the giving golfer raises awareness for our charity of the year

Eddie, who recently visited Helen & Douglas House, said. "I decided to use the space on the front of my cap to raise awareness and hopefully money for a great cause.

"Helen & Douglas House was an obvious choice for me, as it is a local charity and they look after children and young adults"

He added. "I found visiting the hospice fascinating. Having had an entirely healthy childhood, and having never suffered any painful personal losses in my life my eyes were opened to some of the truly fantastic and generous care that is out there for people who need it most

"It is a brilliant charity"

Alison Stone, from the charity said. "We are delighted that Eddie is supporting Helen & Douglas raising money for us and putting our logo on his caps– he has two which he will wear one white and one black.

"It was wonderful to meet him when he came for a tour of the hospice and hear more about why he wants to support us.

"He really wants to help local children whether it be supporting the junior players at Frilford Heath Golf Club or supporting local terminally ill children we care for"

The £7 000 raised so far will pay for an outreach nurse to make 233 visits to one of the families in need of support.

Hole in one: Golfer Eddie Pepperell with Alison Stone at Helen & Douglas House, will proudly wear the Helen & Douglas House logo on his caps at tournaments this month

The PGA Championship tees off on May 24 seven days before the Italian Open. Both will be broadcast live on Sky Sports.

PAIN FREE DENTISTRY

Dentistry has evolved and your desire to have lovely and healthy teeth delivered in a modern, pain-free and relaxing manner is a realistic expectation. At The White Bridge Clinic, systems have been implemented to ensure you receive the most comfortable treatment, from pain-free injections to no more impressions and total relaxation with sedation we strive to make your visits the best you have ever had.

Fear of injections is now a thing of the past. Come and experience the future of advanced dentistry.

SEDATION

Is your dental anxiety preventing you from having your dental treatment? If so, sedation is the perfect answer for you. With intravenous sedation, you will become drowsy and unaware of the treatment, but you will still be able to co-operate with the dentist.

Most dental anxieties are overcome with our caring and relaxing approach to your dental care, however, sedation is useful when treatment is urgent, complex or anxieties are very high. Our long-term goal is to build your confidence and a preventative regime Treatments are therefore simple so that your trust and confidence will grow enough to not need sedation long term.

We believe in getting to know our patients and in doing so we allocate longer appointment times as we want to ensure you are receiving the highest quality of care. We want the time you spend at the practice to be as comfortable as possible.

If you are nervous about visiting the dentist or having injections, talk to our team today

QUICKSLEEPER 5

An innovative computerised anaesthetic system is available to our patients in our commitment to giving you the most comfortable experience available. This device allows you to have one or several teeth anaesthetised painlessly and quickly, leaving you with no numb lips and cheeks as associated with old fashion injection techniques. This means less time for you in the dental chair and quick recovery time following your treatment allowing you to get on with your day

TRIOS INTRAORAL SCANNER

Many patients do not like the putty moulds in their mouths and for some, it can be a reason not to go to the dentist. At The White Bridge Clinic, an investment has been made in the state of the art digital scanner which replaces the old fashion putty moulds. Through a series of photos (thousands), an image of the teeth is taken. Not only does this increase the comfort of your visits but the quality is far higher and accurate than conventional impressions

Cutting it at the Fringe

By Josh Cox

THE end of June will bring all the best elements of Fringe festivals to Oxford.

Spread across eight days, more than 90 events and acts will take place at Oxford Playhouse and The Old Fire Station, Oxford.

Offbeat, created in 2016 also includes high profile comedians and 14 fabulous shows to enjoy before they head off to Edinburgh in August.

Now in its third year, Offbeat boasts an eclectic programme of theatre, music, dance, storytelling, family shows, comedy and circus, 16 of which are home grown in Oxfordshire.

The big comedy nights this year include David Baddiel in My Family No! The Sitcom, Bridget Christie in What Now? Desiree Burch in Unf*ckable and Laura Lexx in Trying.

There will also be The Great Offbeat Comedy Night composed of sketches and acts from Sara Pascoe, Ed Gamble, Phil Wang and newcomer Laura Pattinson.

The first Saturday (June 23) is designed specifically for the family with 12 shows programmed to intrigue and delight younger audiences. From Blue Planet II to The Actual Reality Arcade and subjects as diverse as politics and owls, the festival offers a wide range of shows at times which will enable young festival goers the opportunity to see several in one day.

Home grown shows feature verbatim theatre, a marathon play reading, theatre pub quiz, excerpts from seven of Oxford's playwrights and a plethora of quality comedy and theatre.

Other highlights include Denim, an outrageous drag musical cabaret act starring Amrou Al-Kadhi, who appeared as Judy Henchman in the Playhouse panto last year.

Blowhsh Theatre will be bringing their satirical Trump the Musical filled with raucous comedy and, of course, a terrible wig.

The Foley Explosion is a rare opportunity to experience live sound effects and looping technology in sound worlds that conjure a movie in the mind.

Hugely popular last year, Crying Out Loud and Circa Tsuica return with their highly talented international band of acrobats and musicians offering a thrilling contemporary circus spectacular under a star-studded big top on Oxpens Meadow.

Offbeat will again be partnering BBC Introducing with two evenings and a day of live music from local and emerging musicians.

The festival starts on Friday June 22 and will run until Sunday June 30 at venues including the Play house, Old Fire Station and Oxpens Meadow.

Most tickets are £10 or less.

Minor characters in major roles

Rosencrantz and Guildenstern are Dead was first performed by the Oxford Theatre Guild at the Edinburgh Fringe in August 1966.

Subsequent rave reviews lead the play, which was written by Tom Stoppard, to its professional debut at The Old Vic in 1967.

Now Sinodun Players, working with renowned director Lucy Pitman-Wallace, will give their version at Wallingford's Corn Exchange from Wednesday May 23 to Saturday May 26.

The play expands upon the exploits of two minor characters from Shakespeare's Hamlet, the courtiers Rosencrantz and Guildenstern.

The action of the play takes place mainly "in the wings" of Shakespeare's play, with brief appearances of major characters from Hamlet who enact fragments of the original's scenes.

Between these episodes Rosencrantz and Guildenstern voice their confusion at the progress of events occurring onstage without them and become further bemused by the appearance of the troupe of actors and their enigmatic leader.

The show is both funny and thought-provoking and will form part of Sinodun Players' 70th Anniversary year.

Adult tickets are £10. To book or for more information head to comexchange.org.uk.

Bloodline Wills

Does this sound familiar to you?

"We've made our Wills, leaving everything to each other first and then to the children."

These are known as Mirror Wills. Sounds reassuring enough, doesn't it? But your children could end up with very little - or even nothing at all.

Dear Reader,

Where children's inheritance is concerned our clients want certainty. They want to know that their children will one day benefit from all their years of hard work. They usually come to us having already made standard Mirror Wills with another firm. But often doubts remain in their mind.

Modern family life has many twists and turns and clients worry that having left their estate directly to their children in their Will, what would happen if their son had relationship difficulties or their daughter had creditors pressing. Would their inheritance be taken away from them?

April King Legal are specialists in new style Bloodline Wills. Our free information pack shows you how we can update your Will to include bloodline protection for your children and grandchildren.

Kindest,
Paul King

OUR FREE GUIDE SHOWS YOU...

- How to ensure a child's inheritance is protected from hostile third parties
- The difference between joint tenants and tenants in-common
- Why standard 'Mirror Wills' can put a child or other beneficiaries inheritance at risk.
- How to deal with estranged children in your Will
- Lasting Power of Attorney and how they can help you and your family
- Making a Will for the first time
- How to include or exclude step-children / step-grandchildren

DID YOU KNOW...

"If you have a child who has separated but is yet to divorce then their ex is still next in line to inherit from them over and above your grandchildren from that marriage. Should your son or daughter inherit from you before their divorce is finalized then they could end up having to share that inheritance with their estranged spouse. April King's free information pack shows you ways to help prevent this happening and keep inheritance in the family bloodline."

A classic, perfect for today

By Samantha McGregor

A REVIVAL of Tennessee Williams masterpiece A Streetcar Named Desire takes to the Oxford stage this month

In a co-production by Nuffield Southampton Theatres Theatr Clwyd and English Touring Theatre the show is staged at the Oxford Playhouse until Saturday

A Street Car Named Desire is the story of Blanche, who turns up to live with her sister Stella and her husband Stanley

But anxious seductive and fiercely clever Blanche is hiding secrets and is just about keeping it together

Blanche s arrival also threatens Stanley's entire way of life and as the summer heats up and the games turn savage a burning desire threatens to tear their world apart.

This revival is set against the backdrop of modern day New Orleans and features music composed by jazz musician Nubya Garcia

With the recent #MeToo movement and relationships between men and women and toxic masculinity largely in the public consciousness Tennessee Williams' script continues to be timely and relevant.

Ahead of its arrival in Oxford director Chelsea Walker winner of the 2017 RTST Sir Peter Hall Director, took time out to chat

She said: "I ve not directed a classic' play before, but Streetcar feels alive and kicking and young and muscular

"It speaks to me because of the way it explores toxic masculinity and the pressures we place on women

"Williams uses it to rage against a community s complicity in a stream of violence against women and that couldn t be more relevant to the conversations we re having this year

"For me, Streetcar is Blanche s story – and Tennessee takes us inside her head. I've always been interested in how we can help an audience access her as a character and understand the journey that she s on.

"The play treads a fine between realism and expressionism and I've pushed the expressionism to help the audience stay with Blanche."

Tickets start at £10 and are available from the ticket office on 01865 305305 or book online via oxfordplayhouse.com

In Cuttleslowe go and see Jane Hainsworth s jewellery - she uses silver shell, beads, pearls and semi-precious stones or check-out Vital Peeters contemporary glass

While Bicester hosts exhibitions by Bicester Sculpture Club, at the Old Vicarage in Church Street, Abigail Bosco's horse paintings will hang in cafe Stansfield & Hoole and the town s library plays host to an exhibition by Bicester Art Club

Country charm and classic cuisine

By Karen Neville

IF good food and warm friendly hospitality are key ingredients for your choice for a meal out then the refurbished Bear & Ragged Staff needs to go on your list.

Located in Cumnor, the 16th century pub has new owners – The Peach Pub Company – who have given it a new look inside and out.

The main part of the pub retains many Tudor features which are complimented by stylish modern country touches and furnishings.

Having not been there for many years we were pleasantly surprised by its new look and even more so to be greeted warmly by the manager Rab and deputy Bronte – we later found out she remembered serving us at sister pub The Fishes in Hinksey last summer a nice touch.

So with the warm friendly hospitality box ticked it was time to try out the food. The regular menu was accompanied by a daily specials board and we were drawn to several of the choices on there.

I decided to order the twice-baked cheese soufflé with soused apples and balsamic pearls from the main menu. The soufflé was soft, fluffy and rich and the apples and pearls on top provided a subtle sharp contrast to the smoothness.

My husband chose the asparagus topped with a poached egg and Hollandaise and added a scattering of morels – the egg oozed perfectly over the bright green spears which he declared were cooked exactly as he liked them with a slight crunch.

The pub has a wine of the month and the bottle positioned on our table encouraged us to try the white Rioja which was much lighter bodied than others I have tried so made a good accompaniment to the starters.

We were tempted by the specials of duck breast with potato rosti, carrot and orange puree with a red wine and shallot jus and the mustard glazed pig cheeks with apple puree and chargrilled chicory with sides of creamy mash and spring greens.

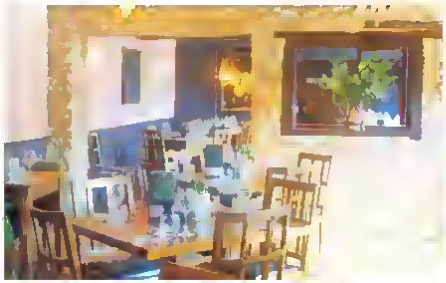
The pig cheeks were a revelation, not something I'd tried before I wasn't really sure what to expect, and I can best describe them as being like pulled pork and packed full of flavour.

The duck breast was cooked as requested just slightly more than pink and the jus added a delicious sweetness complimented by the puree.

Both dishes looked great as well as tasting great.

Much of the restaurant was full by mid evening and many others were eating with smiles on their faces (as we did).

We decided to share dessert, a wise choice as the strawberry parfait was a very generous slice so it was just as well it was light and refreshing. It came with basil syrup and mini black pepper meringues which provided a tastebud pleasing contrast to the freshness of the parfait.



The whole meal had proved to be pleasing to the tastebuds and well worth a return visit who knows to perhaps even enjoy the terrace and garden, weather permitting.

Oh and if you should want to try more the pub boasts nine individual decorated bedrooms all with as much character as the food and The Bear & Ragged Staff itself.

The succulent pig's cheeks and cheese soufflé were both a real treat as was the refurbished pub itself with the look in keeping with the history

WIN tickets to The Classic & Sports Car Show in association with Flywheel

Closing date Thursday, May 17, 2018

On 23-24 June, a fantastic collection of world-class classic competition cars, road cars and bikes – some over a century old – along with an impressive collection of military machines and vintage planes will descend on Bicester Heritage for The Classic & Sports Car Show in association with Flywheel. And you could win tickets for you and your family as we have two family passes up for grabs.

The spectacular event will play host to incredible live demonstrations both on the ground and in the air at the historic site, while the Show's Vintage Village will feature period fairground rides, live music performances, shopping and a huge range of food stalls.

Automobile lovers will delight at the spectacle from the finest that the classic car world has to offer taking to the demo track to show off in glorious tyre-squealing style. Classic motor clubs will stage displays and the open-access paddock lets visitors get up close to these magnificent machines, while there will also be an impressive collection of historic military vehicles on display and even passenger rides in the live-action tank arena.

Moving from the ground to the skies, there will be fantastic air displays of historic aircraft, including daily air displays from the Royal Air Force Battle of Britain Memorial Flight (BBMF) Dakota, the Bremont Great War Display Team and the magnificent trio that is the BBMF Spitfire, Hurricane and Lancaster.

The Bremont Great War Display will stage an exhilarating recreation of a WW1 'dogfight', with aircraft such as Sopwith and Fokker Dr1 triplanes showing just how nimble these early warbirds were. Also taking to the skies will be top display pilot and former British Female Aerobatic Champion Lauren Wilson, who will give a thrilling demonstration of the agility of her glorious bright red Pitts Special aerobatic biplane.

Film buffs are also in for a treat as they'll be able to see filming spots that have been used for box office hits The Imitation Game and The Darkest Hour at Bicester Heritage, the UK's best preserved Second World War Bomber Station.

For your chance to win one of two family tickets to The Classic & Sports Car Show in association with Flywheel just answer the following simple question.

Q: What plane will Lauren Wilson be flying in her display?

A family ticket admits two adults and up to three children (aged 5-15). Entry for children under five years is free, parking is also free.

Walking and running for health in aid of Sobell House

SOBELL HOUSE

Walking is a fantastic way to improve mental health, through exercise, fresh air, time away from the pressures we face in everyday life.

At Sobell House we attach a lot of importance to the overall well-being of our patients, their physical and mental health matters to us. Our priority is on enabling patients to retain their mobility and independence for as long as possible, and to support people in living as well and as fully as possible in the time that they have left.

Our fantastic multi-disciplinary team, made up of occupational therapists, physiotherapists, a psychiatrist and a range of art therapists, works together to ensure patients have the tools as well as the physical aids that they need to help make many of the small everyday tasks that we all take for granted that much more possible. Tasks such as putting on slippers; walking to the end of the garden, going to the toilet on one's own; turning in bed, all these tasks can become overwhelming if people are not equipped to carry them safely. We see that this greater feeling of independence and control has a direct positive impact on the patients' mental health.

The majority of the people who support Sobell House have had a connection with the hospice. We find that many chose physical exercise such as walking and running as their way of showing their gratitude for the services that we provided for a loved one.

So we are keen to give our supporters the opportunity to get fit and feel healthy and, at the same time, help Sobell House to continue to care for people living with a terminal illness across Oxfordshire.

Here are some of the immediate opportunities that you can join to come and get fit with us www.sobellhouse.org for more information or call us on 01865857007

On the right track for great property prices

We've all suffered that Sunday evening feeling when the reality of the Monday morning commute starts to loom. Whether you're faced with a packed tram, a busy motorway or the crazy traffic-dodging that comes with cycling to work, the daily commute is both a necessary evil and, at the same time, something that continues to hold significant influence over property prices – albeit in different ways than it has before.

Over the past decade, the overall number of commutes nationwide have fallen in line with the rise of flexible working, self-employment and technological advancements which make remote working easier. However, the impact that a strong transport infrastructure has on influencing home movers simply cannot be underestimated – after all, people still need to get to work – at least sometimes!

In the past, a short commuting time was often important. Nowadays however with the requirement to commute on a daily basis lessening, a greater choice of housing stock opens up as people become more amenable to the notion of living further away from their normal workplace.

This is good news for the countryside as it helps to utilise housing stock which is located further from city centres. And here in Oxfordshire it's particularly good news given the county's mix of city and country.

In Oxfordshire the most popular mode of commuting remains driving, which made up 63% of all household commutes* although this has dropped slightly in line with the increased popularity of tram travel.

What this means is that homes either within easy access of train stations (and across the county we have several designated 'parkway' stations with plenty of car parking) or which have their own dedicated parking spaces are almost always popular choices with purchasers of working age.

However, nowadays, it's not just transport connectivity which makes a home attractive – strong broadband connectivity will also be particularly important, especially for workers who want to work from home more often!

So, if you're in the market for a new home in Oxfordshire and want to check out the strength of both the local physical and cyber infrastructures, then why not pop in to one of the five Andrews branches across the county to speak with our teams of local experts who can advise you and, maybe help make the commute to work just a little easier to bear. Otherwise, visit www.andrewsonline.co.uk where plenty of advice on choosing your next home is available.

Ford Fiesta B&O Play Zetec – 1.0T EcoBoost (100PS) 6 speed

New Fiesta is like a party on wheels

By Tony Yates

For this week's road test I have the wonderful new Fiesta 'B&O Play Zetec' which to be honest, needs no introduction from me, because it's simply a wonderful machine. Plus, there are literally millions of little Fiesta's running around out on the open roads, and for good reason. But, me being me, I wanted to see if this 'new' version still has some of that old-school charm running through its Ford chassis.

So, let's say no more and get on with it.

Power & efficiency

My test car was powered by a 1.0-litre EcoBoost turbocharged petrol engine with 170Nm of Torque – 100PS of Ford Power – a 0-62 time of around 10.5 seconds and a top speed of around 113 mph. As for fuel economy out on the open road, I achieved around 55mpg, which was pretty good when you think it's just a tiny little 1.0 litre engine.

At first, I expected the little Fiesta to sound wheezy because of its 1.0 litre EcoBoost engine, but to be honest, I was wrong.

When you rev it hard it sounds almost 'racy' which means it's actually a pleasure to listen to and not annoying at all. Of course you may all be thinking that a small engine equals small power? Well not necessarily so. Then again, the Fiesta won't break the sound barrier either, but what it will do is move you along at a spirited pace. Also, out on the city streets, the Fiesta fits right in with the likes of the Fiat 500 and the Kia Picanto when it comes to parking into tight spaces.

On the road

As with all of Ford's small eco-warriors – it changes direction like it's on rails and it holds the road really well, but it does feel a little bouncy but in a fun way, which is exactly how it should be. Plus, out on the open road, the Fiesta really is a joy to drive no matter what the road conditions are doing beneath you.

The brakes also felt good and firm too. And, as for the suspension – it actually absorbed England's bumpy roads really well, although as I said earlier – it was a little on the bouncy side, but again in a fun way, which is why it kept me smiling all the way to Hull and back.

Safety & technology

Some of the equipment you get on the 'B&O Play' model includes: front fog lights (including cornering lights), headlights halogen projector with black bezel and dedicated LED daytime running lights, automatic headlights, automatic wipers, quickclear heated windscreen, Ford MyKey, air conditioning (manual control), steering wheel - 3 spoke, leather-trimmed, trip/fuel computer, Bohai Bay Mint body colour (also available in chrome copper), B&O PLAY Premium audio system with 360° sound which includes 10 speakers and a subwoofer, Digital Sound Processor (DSP), Ford SYNC 3 Navigation with 8" Touchscreen, Bohai Bay Mint colour theme to key interior areas, meaning you get anodized interior door spears, air vent 'Smiley" and instrument panel spear. And, contrast stitching on floor mats and interior mirror cap cover.

Let's be honest, that's loads of extras for your money and something that really looks the part without looking 'flash'.

To sum up

I am going to finish it here, but, I'm going to give the Fiesta five stars in this test, not only because I like how it looks on the outside but also because I believe it's worth taking a look at because after all - it's a Ford Fiesta. What's not to like about that!

Sainz in talks about his future

By George Welch

F1 - Renault

RENAULT has opened talks with Carlos Sainz about a long-term contract at the team, despite the on-loan Red Bull driver having an unclear future.

The Spaniard has been loaned to the Enstone team and can be called back for 2019 if Red Bull loses Daniel Ricciardo – who has an uncertain future of his own – to a rival outfit.

Ricciardo is unlikely to shore up his future with the Austrian drinks team until the summer, putting Renault bosses in an awkward position because they are not totally in control of their line up.

Despite the uncertainty Renault managing director Cyril Abiteboul said a long-term plan is being discussed with Sainz, who only has 13 points so far this season and has been out performed by team mate Nico Hulkenberg.

He told Motorsport.com "We have two great drivers but obviously we have a particular situation with Carlos which is a contract where we are exposed for next year, and we knew that since day one.

"We need to start thinking way in advance about what could be the situation. That is why we have already started discussions with Carlos about [the] longer term.

"[It is] not a super comfortable situation to be in, but we need to accept that we are still playing catch up on many areas [compared to the top teams] and one of the areas is driver market."

Back on the race track and Renault hope to benefit in Sunday's Spanish GP from engine upgrades.

The Barcelona circuit is the home race for Sainz, who is raring to go.

He said: "It's the most special GP of the year for me and it feels so different to any other race.

"Wherever I go throughout the weekend, there's always people cheering, it's a real privilege to experience."

Meanwhile, Renault junior Jack Aitken will make his debut in a contemporary Formula 1 car when he drives for the outfit in the post-Spanish Grand Prix test at Barcelona.

Aitken is a member of the Renault Sport Academy and was promoted to the role of reserve driver for the team at the start of this year.

Speed kings claim victory

Super GT

KING of the castle Sean Walkinshaw reigned supreme again as he clinched a second successive victory in Fuji.

The Chipping Norton Super GT racer put in a memorable drive with Autobacs Racing Team Aguri team-mate Shunichi Takagi in the second round of the championship.

The speedy duo claimed victory in the GT300 series by 26 seconds, marking Walkinshaw's second career win in the class after triumphing at the same Mount Fuji circuit last year.

Success in Fuji helped the team climb to first in the embryonic championship.

An overjoyed Walkinshaw said, "Getting the win was amazing for the whole team, it's a fantastic result and to take the championship lead as well is pretty special.

"Fuji is very strong for our car so we were expecting a good result, but to get the win really topped off the week."

Takagi qualified on pole and opened up a 20-second lead before handing over to Walkinshaw.

The 24 year-old's faultless stint consolidated the lead to more than 40 seconds before Takagi took over to seal victory.

"My stint was pretty uneventful and when I got in the car all I needed to do was manage the gap and not take any risks. The car was fantastic and the ARTA guys did an incredible job."

The next round is at Suzuka on May 19-20.

Haas hope to repeat pre-season times in Barcelona

F1 - Haas

HAAS are ready to bounce back in Barcelona – a track they impressed at in pre-season.

Kevin Magnussen put down a lap of 1.18.360 at Circuit de Barcelona in March to clock the sixth-quickest overall time achieved during the eight days of testing.

The Banbury-prepared team are looking for a similar performance when they aim to right their wrongs from Baku last time out.

Romain Grosjean crashed under the safety car and Magnussen trudged over the line in 13th.

Grosjean said the positive testing has provided the team with a solid 'baseline' but team principal Guenther Steiner was more nonchalant saying all teams have mountains of data on the track and that, more importantly the cars were out racing.

The Italian added a podium is possible 'if all the stars line up'.

"Just racing ourselves into a podium will be difficult without other circumstances like some of the top-three teams dropping out," he said.

Meanwhile, Williams driver Sergey Sirotkin has had his penalty upheld for the Spanish GP after the Grove-based outfit's review request was rejected.

Embarrassed: Romain Grosjean (pictured) crashed under the safety car on Friday's Le Mans Picture: Haas

Stewards decided unanimously on Tuesday not to review the decisions because Williams were "unable to provide new significant and relevant evidence". Sirotkin will still serve his three-place ban after being found "wholly responsible" for colliding with Sergio Perez in Baku's first lap collision.

First points for Smith in Spain

MotoGP

BRADLEY Smith claimed his first Moto GP points of the year with a 13th placed finish in the Spanish race at Jerez.

The Forest Hill rider was upbeat following his best finish so far this season on Sunday, just days after losing his factory ride for the Red Bull KTM team to Yamaha's Johann Zarco next season.

Smith finished behind team mates Mika Kallio and Pol Espargaro in 10th and 11th respectively.

The 27 year-old said, "The opening half of the race was pretty good and then (Alvaro) Bautista and Maverick (Vinales) started to up their pace a little bit.

"I tried to go with them but got a bit nervous and stressed on the bike."

Smith, 22nd in the drivers' standings, added, "I spent half the race digging-in deep. Pol and I then duked until the last corner – I was off the track.

"I was pleased with my pace. It is nice to see our updated bike looking strong. It is looking like the right direction."

Team manager Mike Leitner was delighted all three racers brought the bikes home with 14 points.

Zarco finished the race runner-up to championship leader Marc Marquez.

The next race is the French GP in Le Mans.

First weekend off to a good start, next stop Le Mans

Endurance racing

ALEX Lynn enjoyed making his point-scoring, albeit uneventful, Aston Martin Racing debut in the opening round of the FIA World Endurance Championship at Spa.

The Grove racer is part of AMR's new team for the GTE class competition, which will challenge BMW, Ferrari, Ford and Porsche.

Lights went out for the new season with the six-hour race in Belgium on Saturday.

Lynn qualified his #97 in eighth and had put in a calm drive for the opening two stints before handing over to team-mates Jonny Adam and Maxime Martin.

The car lacked the pace to stay with the frontrunners and finished sixth, with AMR's other racer finishing a place behind for a total of 14 points.

Lynn said: "I was really happy that my first weekend with AMR went smoothly.

"It's great to represent the team and the brand, and on your first event with any factory team you want to make sure your race is clean.

"I had really strong lap times in the race, it was positive and now we need to build on it especially with Le Mans coming up next month – we hope that it will be a much closer race."

The next race is the 24 hours of Le Mans on June 13.

Rolling back the years

By George Welch

Football

NEARLY 2,000 people turned out on a sunny Bank Holiday Monday to thank Les Robinson for 10 years service at Oxford United.

The former United right back was one of the club's great servants and former teammates came out to join him.

Goalkeepers Paul Kee and Alan Judge were joined by defenders Matt Elliott, Phil Gilchrist, Darren Purse and Anton Rogan.

Further forward Stuart Massey, Les Phillips, Paul Wanless, Matt Murphy and Joey Beauchamp rolled back the years alongside the likes of Chris Allen, Mark Druce and Jamie Cook.

They formed a Robinson side who took on an Liverpool XI that featured former United manager Mark Wright, Alan Kennedy, Mark Walters, Paul Walsh, Jimmy Carter, Michael Thomas and John Durnin.

Lining up Liverpool legends took to the pitch to face former United stars

With Denis Smith and Malcolm Crosby in charge of the United side and Phil Neal in charge of the Liverpool stars it was a very competitive game with goals unusually at a premium for a testimonial.

Wanless smashed home the winner for United in a 1-0 victory.

The only dampener on the day was an injury for Gilchrist who was stretchered off in the second half.

Current United boss Karl Robinson was in the stands as was U's legend James Constable, who paid for himself and his family to come in and attend!

Robinson said it was a 'fantastic day'.

He said: "I feel very proud to have had the opportunity and humbled not just by so many people coming along but also the hard work that so many people put in to organising the day.

"It's something I will never forget and I want to thank the fans for their amazing support today, and during my time at the Manor."

Still get it Les Robinson wins a tackle during his benefit game

Liverpool legend Neal added: "We were very proud to come along and play for Les, a dedicated professional who dedicated his life to Oxford United."

Smith said: "Les was a fantastic professional and an absolutely top man, a pleasure to work with. We are all so happy to have played a part and supported him today."

Only five players have made more appearances for the U's than the popular full back, who featured 458 times after signing in 1996.

Pepperell and partner miss out at innovative event

Golf

ABINGDON golfer Eddie Pepperell and his partner Matt Wallace crashed out of the European Tour's innovative GolfSixes tournament at the quarter-final stage on Sunday.

The second edition of the unique 16-par event, held at the Centurion Club in St Albans, saw England Men top their group at the end of the opening day.

Pepperell and Wallace, both winners on the European Tour this year, drew 1-1 in their opening tie against England Women before drawing 2-2 with Sweden.

Saturday's results paved the way to the knockout stages the following day.

But France proved too strong in the last eight, winning holes one and four to record a 2-0 victory and send the England team out.

Ireland's Gavin Moynihan and Paul Dunne went on to beat the French pair of Romain Wattel and Mike Lorenzo-Vera in Sunday's final.

South Korea's Soomin Lee and Jeunghun Wang wrapped up third place with a 3-0 win over Australia.

Pepperell will tee off at the Rocco Forte Open in Sicily today (Thursday).

He is due to tee off on the 11th at 8.30am, (9.30am BST), in a group with Thomas Bjørn and Thorbjørn Olesen.

10-wicket victory starts season in style as bowlers strike

Cricket

BICESTER & North Oxford CC bowled over opponents Great & Little Tew 11 to begin their Cherwell League Division Three campaign in emphatic style.

BNOCC seized the momentum of the first innings and wickets fell regularly, with Ryan Moore (2-14) and brother Lewis (1-21) helping to wrap up the Tew innings in the 46th over for just 120.

The 1st XI's resounding win by 10 wickets was the perfect start to the new season.

Elsewhere, Great & Little Tew 11s forfeited their Division 7 match with BNOCC 2nd XI on Thursday night leaving the Bicester team to hastily arrange a friendly against Oxford Downs 11s.

Ben Clark (2-53) and Ryan McLaughlin (1-43) were the pick of the Bicester bowlers, but Downs took an imposing 238-6 from their 45 overs.

Callum Doak's majestic 92 not out was paced perfectly, taking his time to settle at the crease before smashing 10 fours and two sixes in his 69 ball innings.

BNOCC 3rd XI got the season under way with a thriller against Cherwell League new boys Westbury IIIs but eventually found themselves on the wrong side of a three wicket loss.

Next week BNOCC 1st XI travel to Horley, the 2nd XI host Bledlow Village, and the 3rd XI face Cropredy.

Promotion for Chinnor after play-off glory

Rugby

PROMOTION to National League 1 beckons for play-off winners Chinnor after a nail biting encounter with Sedgley Park on Saturday.

The South Oxfordshire side went into the play-off final knowing victory would see them achieve promotion at the expense of their National 2 North counterparts.

Bertie Hopkin, Josh Barton and Jonny Bentley ensured the National 2 South runners up would take a 22-10 lead into half time in front of a crowd of 1,378.

The game looked dead and buried when a George Oliver try put Chinnor 30-10 ahead, but Sedgley's fighting spirit brought the scores to 35-31 at the final whistle.

Chinnor's director of rugby Matt Williams said: "We did our homework.

"I thank all those involved over the year for our success. It's been awesome."

Elsewhere, Henley Hawks' head coach Pete Davies stepped down after eight years of coaching at the Club.

Henley finished the season ninth in National League 2 South on 73 points.

In the South West Premier, Banbury suffered a heart breaking 42-31 defeat to Exeter University in the play-off finals to miss out on promotion to the fifth tier.

Meanwhile, Oxford Harlequins prepare to move in to a new £1million ground on Horspath Road on a 30-year lease.

Ballers net season awards

Basketball

ABINGDON Eagles marked the end of season with a bundle of awards for its ballers.

The Year 10 King Alfred's basketball team were crowned Team of the Year at King Alfred's KS4 Sports Awards.

The Y10 team went on to win the Oxfordshire School Games County Final for the third time after picking up the trophy in Y8 and Y9.

After the introduction of one Y11 player the team were again crowned champions in the Y11 finals against St Birinus on Wednesday last week.

All Y10 players were recognised at AEBC's end of season celebration evening with Dillon Bose, 15, and Ruben Collins, 15, winning Coaches Player awards.

Payne for United as ex-loanee's goal finishes season with defeat

By George Welch

Blackburn Rovers 2
Darragh Lenihan 12 Jack Payne 76

Oxford United 1
James Henry 66

Attendance: 27,600 (1,290 away)

FORMER Oxford United loanee Jack Payne scored the winner as Championship-bound Blackburn Rovers edged past their visitors 2-1 in front of a jubilant Ewood Park.

The attacking midfielder linked up with the U's from Huddersfield Town in the summer before being recalled by the Terriers in January to make the move to Lancashire.

The 23 year-old said before Saturday's game that playing against his former team mates would be "weird, but he had no trouble lashing home a deflected left foot shot for a 76th minute winner.

Already promoted Rovers had to win to have any chance of clinching the League One title from champions Wigan Athletic.

Oxford's James Henry did his best to play the role of party pooper by netting an equaliser—but Will Grigg's winner 15 minutes from time in their game ensured Wigan would be crowned champions.

That rendered the outcome of United's trip to Blackburn as insignificant, although the near 30,000 crowd was treated to an entertaining final game of the season which culminated with a Blackburn promotion party after the final whistle.

It was a game of firsts as Darragh Lenihan's first goal for the club put the hosts ahead before prolific defender Charlie Mulgrew – who ended the season with a mighty 14 goals – missed a penalty.

Henry has also impressed for the U's particularly in the second half of the season, and the 26-year-old hoovered up his 11th goal of the season with a cute flick on 66 minutes.

That goal was his third in his last three appearances and his eighth since January 20. Boss Karl Robinson recently said that Henry had "single handedly kept United up" with his goals since Christmas.

Blackburn needed to respond if they were to have any chance of being champions.

With 14 minutes to go, it was sub Payne, the scorer of seven Oxford goals (and many more assists) this season, who got the party started again with his first for the club.

Only just on, the Huddersfield loanee ghosted to the right of the box, cleverly finding space and fired the ball beyond Eastwood, a former Rovers goalkeeper, for the winner.

Robinson's men finished 16th in League One on 56 points, 13 fewer than last season.

Progress made in a few weeks

KARL Robinson believes his players should take pride from their performance at Blackburn Rovers, a side who racked up 96 League One points and will play next season in the Championship.

Speaking amidst the promotion party at Ewood Park, a place he spent time as a coach, Robinson said: "This is a massive football club and it should be a motivation to my players.

"You don't want take the bridesmaid but we've played it really well today.

"I'm proud of my players and we've been part of a very good spectacle.

"We ran up short a bit. We huffed and puffed and we need to learn that we've got to score.

"In the first 25 minutes we were the better team – we got in three or four times and didn't ask a question [of the Blackburn goalkeeper]."

Robinson called on his squad to work hard over the summer to carry the momentum into next season.

He said: "We finish in a very positive frame of mind.

"To finish the way we did, our only two defeats in the last few games have been to the sides in first and second and both were by a one-goal margin.

"I think it's progress, so we have to move forward now."

Amazing atmosphere for teenager's debut

TEENAGER Owen James could not be blamed for pinching himself when he made his Oxford United debut in front of more than 27,000 people.

The 17-year-old enjoyed the final seven minutes of the 2-1 defeat to Blackburn Rovers on Saturday when he replaced the more experienced Jon Obika.

The forward, who signed a professional contract earlier this season, had time to try his luck and fired over the bar.

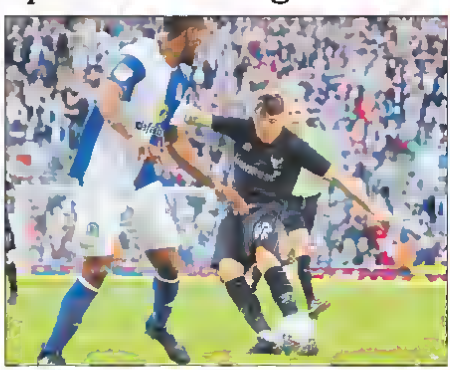
Delighted to make his debut, James's dad was at the game, although his mum was away and missed his debut but even that failed to dampen his spirits.

He said: "It was absolutely amazing to get some minutes and I just want to say thank you to the people who have helped me through.

"Being around the first team has been amazing, they've really helped me come into it. The stadium's amazing and the fans and atmosphere was as well. It was a really good [place to make your debut].

"[Manager Karl Robinson] told me to run around and enjoy it – and I definitely did."

He added: "I'm going to work hard in pre-season, come back bigger and stronger and do it again."



Debut: Owen James was given his first taste of first team football

James was one of five to sign pro deals at the U's in March. Fellow youngster Albie Hopkins was also on the bench. The club is in the process of establishing a full Under 23 development squad to bridge the gap between youth team football and the senior side.

Ryan to stay at United unless money talks

By George Welch

FANS favourite Ryan Ledson could be an Oxford United player next season following his surprise appearance on the final day of the season.

The midfielder was not expected to be in the United squad for Saturday's 2-1 defeat at Blackburn Rovers amid interest from Preston North End.

The Championship side were in for the 20-year-old during the winter transfer window and manager Karl Robinson admitted there was a high possibility of Ledson making the move to Deepdale.

But the former England youth international was named as the substitute bench and enjoyed a 35-minute cameo at Ewood Park.

Speaking afterwards, Robinson gave U's fans a boost by suggesting the transfer is now doubtful.

He said: "After the player of the year do we had a conversation. It's hard because he's very committed to this club.

"Unless something comes in [financially] that we feel is a necessity that we have to take he won't be moving.

"But if it's something he really wants and is a very heavily-weighted financial package for our club we'll do it.

"But until that point he wants to be here. We had a conversation on Friday afternoon when he wasn't in the squad...but it shows you how powerful fans can be."

Robinson added: "Preston haven't really spoken to us. We have had a conversation and we believe they like him.

"I'm not really sure what I can and can't say, but I don't foresee him going there."

When quizzed on other potential destinations for the former Everton trainee Robinson said there is nothing that we know of.

Ledson has scored four goals in 80 appearances since making the move to the Kassam for an undisclosed fee in the summer of 2016.

Robinson is having a busy time this week as he prepares for next season.

He said: "We'll be in everyday [this week] The staff will [keep us] moving forward to try and do the right thing for the football club.

"I'm meeting three players on Wednesday (yesterday) and two more on Thursday (today).

"It means there could be a period of settling in [for the new players]."

Tiger promises new signings for new season

CHAIRMAN Sumrith Tiger Thanakarnjanasuth has thanked the amazing Oxford United fans as he promises to announce new players soon.

Speaking after the season finale's 2-1 defeat at Blackburn Rovers the Thai businessman, said: "The supporters have been amazing this season and played a massive part in the feel good factor returning to the club for the last few weeks.

"Those that travelled to Blackburn were a credit to the club and I want to thank everyone for getting behind Karl and his players at the most important stage of the season."

The owner said he is encouraged by season ticket sales ahead of an exciting 2018/19 campaign.

He said: "I would also like to urge fans to buy their season tickets. Early sales are very good and I'd like to thank those who have renewed already.

"We are already starting to build a squad for next season and hope to have news of new players soon but everyone who gets the season ticket now knows that they are playing their part and helping us build what we think will be a very exciting side playing good football and backed once again by passionate fans next season."
